

Death of James M. Wallin

8/25/18 ——— FBN

We are very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. J. M. Wallin. He had been sick with pneumonia and from the first had a very severe case and last Saturday succumbed to the fever.

He had been a member of the County Board of Education and was a man who was very useful to his neighborhood. He will be missed by a wide circle of friends and relatives. The News joins with the others in this common sorrow and loss and extends to the bereaved its sympathy.

IN MEMORIAM.

JAMES M. WALLIN.

Mr. James M. Wallin of Big Laurel, who departed this life on the 20th day of last August will often be remembered by a host of friends and loved ones who survive him. He was born in Madison county in 1850, living through the most eventful period of its whole history. He lived to see many of its forest clothed hills changed to rich harvest fields. Although there were but few schools in his boyhood days, he lived to see the day when every district had its school and every child a chance to go.

He longed for the success of all that was good and noble in his county, state and church. Though he was a single farmer, he was but one of the forerunners of that class which are in future years to make the nation strong. His life was a model, for he sought the greatest good from everything that was good. Such was he, but his work is done, 11/4/18 MCR
