Mr. Hunter, Mr. Jeff White and Mr. and Mrs. Carter left Leeward, Kansas, by motor September 11th. Mr. White had not been very well, having suffered some severe attacks with appendicitis. They took him from the car and placed him on a quilt by the side of the road and went for medical aid some distance away. A train was flagged and he was taken to a hospital at Rockwood, Tenn. The physicians couldn't remove his appendix or account of his weakened condition and weak heart. He lived only about twenty-four hours after being taken to the hospital. A message was sent to his people at Marshall ent to him, however Jeff was dead and Bartley had only about four hours before starting east with his brother's body. Mr. White prayed to live to get home, however he realized death was near. When he heard his brother was coming he said he would never live to see him. Mr. and Mrs. Carter stayed close by his side the whole way through, they left an automobile and came with the body. Mr. Hunter brought the car on through the country arriving at Marshall at about one o'clock, Tuesday night.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, at 3 o'clock at the Laurel Branch church where Mr. White has been a member for a number of years.
