

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Banks of Old Fort returned home Tuesday after spending about two weeks in the County visiting relatives. While here Mrs. Banks' father, Rev. J. M. Wilds died last Saturday morning of pellagra at his home on Walnut Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Banks also lost their two-year-old child, E. J. Banks, who died of diphtheria, five minutes before its grandfather, the old man dying at 1:15, the child having died at 1:10. The clock stopped as the old man passed away at the age of 65. The two were buried at the Roberts graveyard, the service being conducted by Revs. N. H. Griffin and W. C. Moore.
